Fallen Heroes Return Home

Three of Kingston's first war dead arrived home Sunday aboard the Army transport Joseph V. Connolly at Pier 61, Hudson River, at 21st street in New York. The three, a part of the 6,251 fallen heroes who were returned from the Henri Chappelle cemetery at Eupen, Belgium, were honored in New York Sunday when 400,000 people observed a memorial service at Sheep Meadow.

Business, Labor Leaders Discuss Help to Europe

Connally and Malone Hope Special Session Will Limit Work to Emergency

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The White House called in some 90 leaders of business and organized labor today for an off-the-record study of ways to help Europe without forcing prices at home still higher.

At the same time, two Senators who usually disagree on foreign policy matters voiced hope that the special session of Congress set for November 17 will limit its work to emergency assistance and leave the multi-billion dollar long-range Marshall plan to the regular session.

"This view came from the veteran Senator, Tom Connally, (D-Tex.), former chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and freshman Senator George Malone, (R-Nev.), who voted against most of the foreign policy issues Connally supported last session."

Mr. Connally said he would like to see the so-called long-range Marshall plan, "we'll never get through," Connally told a reporter. "I think Congress will be in a mood to give prompt attention to any stopgap plan and pass it."

Malone, in another interview, said he wants "this feeding program" separated from other proposals "so as not to confuse the people and the issues."

The Nevada Senator said that much public confusion now exists because "feeding hungry people, rehabilitation of foreign industry, and opposition to Communism, have been talked of simultaneously."

Malone said he will support a program for "feeding hungry people if we are not just acquiring a permanent group of hungry boarders for the next 15 or 20 years."

President Truman listed consideration of the Marshall plan along with action to curb inflation and get stop-gap aid to Europe as the three reasons for the special session. Few expect any decision on the Marshall program before next year, however.

Called by Steelman
Today's White House session was called by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. Whether Mr. Truman would attend along with Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Commerce Harrison, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and other government officials was left open.

No list of those invited was made public in advance of the meeting. It was learned, however, that the conferees would include such business leaders as Henry

Bodies of Five Ulster Men Are Returned From War Zone

Included Are Bodies of Three Kingstons Who Died in Europe; 400,000 Pay Tribute in New York Ceremony

Amid the solemn welcome of an estimated 400,000 persons who witnessed the procession along New York's streets and later viewed with awe the memorial service at Sheep Meadow, Central Park, the first war dead of World War 2, including five Ulster county veterans and 15 other area men returned home Sunday aboard the Army transport Joseph V. Connolly at Pier 61, Hudson River at 21st street.

Three Kingstons Men

Three of the returned heroes were Kingston veterans who were killed in action during the recent conflict. They were Lt. John D. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Snyder of 16 Lafayette avenue; Pvt. Atwood B. Clark, son of Margaret Clark, 197 Bruyn avenue; and P.F.C. George J. Houghtaling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Houghtaling of 67 Hinsdale street.

Lt. Snyder, a graduate of Kingston High School in 1938 and the College of Forestry at Syracuse University in 1943, was killed in action in Germany in 1944. He was a member of the First Reformed Church where he had been an officer of the Christian Endeavor Society and was active in other church activities.

Pvt. Clark was reported as killed in action in Holland, November 3, 1944. He attended Kingston High School and was employed at Hercules Powder Company for nine years prior to entering the army, November 17, 1942.

Other Area Returnees
Other area returnees aboard the army transport Sunday and the next of kin were: Poughkeepsie—Pvt. Joseph S. Cherniske, Mrs. Dorothy M. Cherniske, Pleasant Valley road; Sgt. Stanley H. Wisniewski, Mrs. Margaret Wisniewski, 66 Church street; Pfc. Stelios Theodoropoulos, John Theodoropoulos, 21 Corbin street.

Bacon—Sgt. U.S.N. Peter Mangler, Mrs. Agnes Mangler, 386 Liberty street; Sgt. Robert V. T. Resek, Mary Resek, 137 Spring Valley; Pfc. James J. Walker, Margaret Brown, 2 Louis street, Newburgh—2nd Lt. Robert W. Masten, Robert W. Masten, 21 Corbin street.

Secretary Keresman of the New York State Police Conference, who was accompanied to the dinner by President Edward J. Leonard of the Kingston P.B.A., and Secretary Joseph Fallon, complimented the village police on their enthusiasm and progressive program in their association.

"I've found in many cases during my tour of the state, that it's the smaller organizations such as yours that really accomplish the aims for which our association is intended," Keresman said. He

Polish Opposition Leader Is Missing; Officials Silent

By LARRY ALLEN
Warsaw, Oct. 27 (AP)—The whereabouts of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, Polish opposition leader, remained a mystery today as the government-sponsored Left-Wing faction of his Polish Peasant Party took over the editorship of his newspaper Gazeta Ludowa and acted swiftly to reorganize the party along Leftist lines.

As yet there was no official comment on where Mikolajczyk—who was probably watched more closely by security police than any man in Poland—might have fled or how he, his secretary and three aides might have crossed the Polish border.

Government officials were openly delighted that Mikolajczyk ap-

Hanley Plea Is for Return To Spiritual

Lieutenant Governor Is Guest Speaker at Masonic Breakfast in City

Services Are Held

Special Ceremonies Are Held at Synagogue, St. James

Three hundred Kingston Masons and their friends heard New York state's Lieutenant Governor, Joe R. Hanley, plead Sunday for a return to spiritual values as the guiding force in national, civic, fraternal and family life.

Lieutenant Governor Hanley's address was given at a communion breakfast at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Host to the assembly was Kingston Lodge No. 10, Right Worshipful Eugene Morehouse, of Hurley, Past District Deputy Grand Master of Ulster and Greene counties, was the toastmaster.

Senator Arthur H. Wick, of this city, introduced Lieutenant Governor Hanley and recalled his 22-year association with him in the State Legislature. In responding to the senator's introduction, Lieutenant Governor Hanley spoke of his personal admiration for Senator Wick and told the assembly he counted his association with Senator Wick one of the deepest ties of his public life.

Prior to the breakfast two services were held in this city. One was the service of dedication at Temple Emanuel, Aboel's street, at which Dr. Herbert I. Bloom officiated, the other was the communion ceremony at St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl streets. The Rev. Earl C. Johnson conducted the latter service.

The invocation at the breakfast was given by Rabbi Bloom, while the Rev. Dr. O. L. Soltau, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, this city, gave the benediction.

The Masonic assembly Sunday marked the observance of "Co-to-Church Sunday" and was held at the direction of Most Worshipful Gay H. Brown, Grand Master of New York State.

Lieutenant Governor's Address
Lieutenant Governor Hanley's address follows:

Yesterday is history. Tomorrow is prophesy, and today is stern reality. Today must measure up to its responsibilities. We must be worthy of the yesterdays, and able to solve the problems of the tomorrows. To do this, it will require all the consecration, all the brain power and the patriotism which we possess.

There is a verse in the Book of Isaiah which reads: "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord." This is as true today as the day it was uttered and it applies equally well to nations as to individuals.

At the present moment there is a great question in the minds of many thinking people as to whether our type of government is what is the responsibilities that we now face. Will the crisis in which we find ourselves involved be successfully solved and its various problems conquered is a question that agitates the minds of many. We are estimating our strength in terms of material rather than spiritual. So many times a nation is called strong. It has a large potential striking ability, great financial resources, or hidden wealth. To my way of thinking the strength of a nation is not in its gold mines, nor its coal mines, nor its great material achievements in its great material achievements are worth, nor in the number of its armed forces, the character of its armament, the strength of its navy, the power of its air force. Those, as I see it, are the attributes of greatness, not greatness itself. They are created by greatness. They do not make a nation great. In other words, a nation may possess enormous wealth, have unheard of power, and still not be a strong nation. In the eyes of tomorrow we will be measured not by what we put into our bank account, not by what we put upon our backs, not by the glory of our residence, fear-shaking power of our army and navy and air force, but by the character that we developed here in this country.

It will be continually asked of us in the tomorrows, "What did you do with the youth of today? How did you develop the citizenry that will control us in the days that are to come?" In the

Catskill Waters Are Many Feet Below Their Normal Flow

Cooper Lake, City's Supply, Is 9 Feet Below Crest; Gilboa Tapping Is Stopped

Catskill Mountain water sources which supply this city and New York continued dwindling this week as the local reservoir at Cooper Lake was reported nine feet below crest and the Ashokan system several billions of gallons below normal capacity.

The report on this 35th rainless day showed the Cooper Lake reservoir at 550 million gallons as compared to its normal one billion, 200 million capacity, and the Ashokan at 83½ billions of gallons as against a normal supply of 120 billions of gallons.

New York's water department, meanwhile, has stopped drawing from the auxiliary supply at Gilboa where only 1.7 billions of gallons of water is now available. The normal storage there is 20 billions of gallons.

Local officials of the New York department announced today that eight men have been stationed at various posts along the reservoir property as a protection against the outbreak of forest fires there. Three men are on similar duty at Gilboa and others are at the reservoirs nearer to New York. They are on 24-hour service.

John J. Byrne, superintendent of the local water department, said today that men who are employed regularly at the city's reservoirs are also watching for fires and that they have equipment available in the event one is discovered on the reservoir property.

The superintendent said that local residents are apparently mindful of the drought and are not wasting water. The supply, he said, is not being abnormally taxed at this time. Water in the

Lawson Declared Guilty of Contempt

Screen Writer Refuses Any Testimony on Whether He Is Communist

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today voted John Howard Lawson, screen writer, in contempt for refusing to tell whether he is or ever was a Communist.

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, said that because the present hearings on Communist activities in Hollywood are being conducted by a subcommittee, the action will have to be submitted later to a meeting of the full committee.

If the contempt citation is voted by the full committee, a statement of its action is filed with the speaker of the House who can turn the matter over directly to the United States attorney for prosecution.

Prosecution would be before a jury.

The law calls for a fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment of one month to a year in jail for anyone found guilty.

Lawson shouted during a tumultuous exchange with Committee Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) that he was refusing to answer the question because it was an invasion of his private rights as a citizen. He contended that it is a question which the committee has no constitutional authority to ask.

The committee is holding hearings on Communist activities in the movie industry.

As Lawson lashed out at the committee, Thomas repeatedly banged his gavel in an attempt to halt Lawson.

Thomas also reminded Lawson that in the past others who had refused to respond to committee questioning had been held in contempt of Congress.

A charge of contempt of Congress is subject to jury trial. Conviction carries a penalty of up to a year in jail.

(Another in a series of the six proposed state constitutional amendments and three propositions on which the people will vote Nov. 4.)

By HARRY O'DONNELL

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 27 (AP)—The state would be permitted to construct ski trails and facilities in forest preserve land in Warren, Ulster and Delaware counties by provisions of the sixth proposed amendment to the state constitution on which the people will vote November 4.

The amendment has been endorsed by the Republican and Democratic parties as well as many winter sports organizations. Some conservationists are not enthusiastic about the proposal but there has been no obvious, organized opposition.

An amendment is necessary because the constitution specifically states that "lands of the state, now owned or hereafter acquired, constituting the forest preserve  shall be forever kept as wild forest lands."

A few years ago the constitution was amended to allow the state to construct and maintain ski trails of Whiteface mountain the upper Adirondacks.

What Amendment Provides
The proposed amendment would permit the state to construct and maintain:

1.—Not more than 20 miles of ski trails 30 to 80 feet wide, together with appurtenances thereto, on the slopes of Belleayre mountain in Ulster and Delaware counties in the Catskill forest preserve.

2.—Not more than 30 miles of similar facilities on the slopes of Gore, South and Peter Gay mountains in Warren county in the Adirondack forest preserve.

Observers point out that the amendment not only allows for ski trails but "appurtenances" which could cover ski jumps, ski lifts, lodges, parking facilities, etc.

Endorsing the proposal recently, Governor Dewey said it would authorize the construction of ski trails "on carefully chosen mountains in the Catskills and Adirondacks."

"Out of the millions of acres in the forest preserve, this amendment will divert only a few hundred," he said, "and its approval will bring to tens of thousands of our people healthy, happy recreation."

In reply to an inquiry from the Conservation Department, the attorney general last May commented on many potential aspects of the proposal.

Auxiliary Facility
Referring to the Warren county project, he said it apparently would be an "auxiliary" facility to nearby private ski development. He added:

"The only parts of the future development which it is desired to locate on forest preserve land are portions of ski trails which begin on private land, and during a part of their course are expected to run on forest preserve lands."

"As to the Catskill ski development," he continued, "it is understood that the principal parts of the ski trails and lifts would have to be located on forest preserve land, although the ski lodge and possibly the power plants for the ski lifts might be located in privately owned lands."

The opinion also held that: 1.—Private interests could not enter the forest preserves and construct the facilities "at their own expense."

2.—The state must do the work either directly or through some state agency created by the Legislature or under contract entered

Hurley Fights Forest Blaze; 10 Acres Burn

A supposedly incendiary blaze, second fire within two days in the same area, gave Hurley firemen a rugged Saturday afternoon and burned approximately 10 acres of woodland before it was overcome.

Several Hurley fire fighters suffered minor injuries ranging from burns to a smashed finger.

The blaze was in the Dug Hill road section in the West Hurley election district and was about three-fourths of a mile beyond the Schnell property, scene of Thursday night's stubborn woods fire.

Fire Warden Isaac Rosa and Hurley Fire Chief Winfred Snyder were in charge of firefighting operations. Between 30 and 40 men were engaged in the work.

Kingston covered the Hurley fire district under the mutual aid agreement.

Kingston Firemen Answer Eight Calls; Warnings Ignored

Grass, Brush, Rubbish Fires Are Set Despite State Calls to Stop Burning

Local firemen were called out eight times over the week-end and today to quell grass, brush and rubbish fires, despite state and local warnings against carelessness and the deliberate burning of refuse during the dry-weather emergency.

The four calls Saturday were: grass fire, Third avenue, 4:07 p. m.; leaves, Dutch Reformed Church yard, 10:56 p. m.; leaves, Foxhall avenue and Downs street, 11:17 p. m. and leaves near 146 Franklin street, 11:45 p. m.

The Sunday calls were, grass, rear of 25 Lucas avenue, 1:49 p. m., and grass in back of Emerick street, 4:20 p. m.

Calls this morning were for a grass fire near the Sterling street dump at 9:46 a. m. and rubbish near 81 Lincoln street, 10:13 a. m.

Late Bulletin

Equipment Needed

Camp buildings, bungalows and other structures at Lake Awosting, in the path of the Shawangunk Mountain forest fire in that area were reported in danger this afternoon.

An emergency call for firefighting equipment was relayed to Kingston, but the local department said it had received no direct request for equipment.

The report said, however, that a call had been sent to the New Paltz fire department for aid in keeping the fire away from the camp area at the lake.

O'Dwyer Orders New York Probe Welfare Department

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—An investigation of the city Department of Welfare "to discover any instances of improper conduct or violations of the law by employees" has been ordered by Mayor William O'Dwyer as his executive committee on administration charged inefficiency, waste and laxity in the department.

The committee's 44-page report was released yesterday, two days before a formal investigation of the department by the State Board of Social Welfare.

The state board announced yesterday that hearings will start here Wednesday.

O'Dwyer ordered Investigations Commissioner John M. Nurtagh to begin a city inquiry immediately.

Backfires Used; Damp Air Helps

Several Men Escape Fire Trap When Aided by Plane; Control Held at Present

Plants Send Men

Men, Trucks, Tractors Are Sent From City Industries

A report that a fire had been started in the Watson Hollow woods came from the operator of one of the observation planes now covering Ulster county, William B. Martin of the Excelsior Hose Company, said today.

Although no further information could be learned as to the extent of the blaze, Mr. Martin said that from his report which was radioed from the plane, the fire had just started.

Conditions on the Shawangunk mountains were reported to be "more favorable" today as hundreds of fire fighters battled to check the spread of the state's most serious forest fires from spreading toward the Minnewaska mountain houses.

Observer Martin Merritt at Skytop tower near Lake Mohawk reported that it was believed the fireline could be held at the site of the power line which runs across the Shawangunk range two miles from Minnewaska.

While the fire in the Shawangunk range was considered in better condition than at any time for the past several days, it was said the danger was by no means eliminated and hundreds of fire fighters were needed to replace exhausted men on the fire lines.

If the fire can be held on the Castle Point line where back firing from the power line clearing is going on today, it is possible that the most serious fire in many years in the Shawangunks will be brought under control, Mr. Merritt said. However, he pointed out that this depended entirely upon favorable conditions and the present lack of wind.

Sunday night, Mr. Merritt said, was the most favorable night thus far experienced. There was considerable dampness in the air and the high wind had subsided.

District Ranger Walsh was on the scene directing the work of battling the flames.

Sunday several men who were fighting the fire escaped being trapped in the path of the fire when they became temporarily lost and were guided from the scene by one of the conservation observation planes.

It was hoped to hold the fire which was driving toward Minnewaska on the Castle Point line by back firing operation along the power line to Hamilton Point and Painesburg, southward from Minnewaska. If this line can be held today, Mr. Merritt said, it was believed the fire could then be brought under control.

The fire in The Clove valley not far from the Minnewaska trail was reported to be under control today as was a fire in the Catskills near Samsonville which was reported this morning. Aid was asked for the Samsonville fire and later today it was reported that this was under control.

It was hoped today that the fire in The Clove section would be held along the Peters Kill.

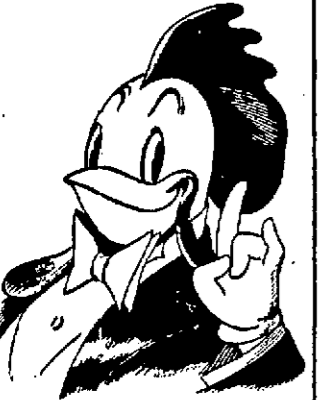

The fire in the Mountaindale section was reported to have been brought under control Sunday after breaking out again.

Says Cottages Threatened
Albert E. Milliken, Kingston architect, who has been leading a group of fire fighters on the Shawangunk mountains today said while he and a gang of men had been working Saturday night in the Lake Awosting section several cottages in that area had been threatened and that the fire was extinguished just in time to save the cottages. Battling a fire in the Mud Pond area, Mr. Milliken said that fire had been brought under control about 2 o'clock Sunday morning but that near Crawford at Napanoch Point "big fires" were still raging. Sunday a long fire was burning from north to south near Wolfs Jaw, Spruce Glen and on the easterly side of Margaret Cliff ledge. Sunday a fire was discovered on Dicke Barre mountain between Minnewaska and Mohonk. Mr. Milliken said,

62 Persons Feared Lost in Air Wrecks

Swedish Transport Falls Near Athens; Plane Is Sought in Alaska

(By the Associated Press)

Sixty-two persons were feared dead in plane crashes today as the Greek air force reported a Swedish Airline transport crashed near Athens last night and no trace was found of a Pan American World Airways plane which disappeared yesterday over southeastern Alaska.

Airmen who flew over the wreckage of the plane which crashed into Mt. Hymettos, south-east of Athens, said all aboard were believed killed. The Swedish plane carried 36 passengers, among them two Americans, and a crew of eight. It was enroute from Istanbul to Athens.

Low-hanging clouds threatened to hamper a far flung land search for the missing Pan American plane which vanished during a severe storm near Ketchikan, Alaska, with 78 persons aboard. Nothing had been heard from the plane since it radioed the Annette Airport that "extreme turbulence" prevented a contemplated instrument landing at 1:44 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Investigators meanwhile studied the site where a giant DC-6 United Airlines plane crashed and burned last Friday, taking a toll of 52 lives. Only 12 of the bodies have been positively identified thus far.

The accident, second worst in the history of commercial aviation in the United States, occurred near the rim of Bryce Canyon, Utah, only 1,500 feet from an emergency landing strip.

James Casey Is Held On Petit Larceny Charge

James Casey, 54, formerly of Chichester, who, police said, has no home, was arrested Sunday on a petit larceny charge, following the report of the theft of a bicycle valued at $41 and owned by Donald Sieldor, 709 Broadway. Deputy City Judge Francis Martocci today adjourned hearing until tomorrow when Casey was brought before him.

The owner of the bicycle reported to Officer Walter Fitzgerald Sunday afternoon that the bicycle had been taken from Pine Grove avenue. Officers James Burns and Earl Schoonmaker later arrested Casey on Cedar street on the theft charge.

Exhibition Is Closed

The annual exhibition of the Kingston Model Railroad Club closed Sunday with an attendance figure for the eight-day show that doubled all previous records, stated a club official. Included in the attendance were people from the states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine.

and this fire had every appearance of having been "set." Fire fighters held the blaze on the north-easterly edge from the Mohonk direction while others worked along the Coxingkill and Peters Kill. This fire was out Sunday afternoon, he said.

From the High Point tower today Observer O. J. Mulford said smoke was very dense and he had practically no visibility. From his station it appeared that the fire was running toward Minnewaska and also toward the Crawford or Walker Valley area. There was some fire in the Westinghouse Lake area. The fire which had burned in the Cragmoor area, he said, appeared to have been put out.

Worst of 483 Fires

The New York State Conservation Department reported the fire in the Minnewaska country was the "worst of 483 fires which have broken out in the past 17 days" and said that 500 men, aided by air observation and ground radios were battling the fire.

A call was sent out today for shovels, hoes and rakes.

Shortly after midnight today a fire broke out south of the Port Ewen station at the foot of Husey Hill, Hercules Powder Company employees notified the Port Ewen fire department and the firemen battled the fire for an hour or more before bringing it under control. Chief Edward F. Mains said the fire may have started from the railroad. It was discovered between the railroad and the foot of the mountain. Prompt action prevented the fire from spreading to the mountain close by.

Over the week-end hundreds of high school boys responded to a call for assistance and several manufacturing plants sent men to the scene. Sunday morning transportation was supplied for a large force of men who left Excelsior Heights on Hurley avenue for the scene of the fire and today more men were being shuttled to the scene.

Don Williams, secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, said local plants were cooperating with Chairman Rochford of the Industrial Activities Committee, and several plants had volunteered to send men to the fire scene. It was recommended that plants send from three to five men to fight the fires, the companies to pay the salaries of the men while so engaged.

Operating Truck

Electrol, Inc., and Hercules Powder Company were operating trucks today to fight the fire. The Hercules truck was carrying volunteers from the Smith Avenue Bull Market to Hurley Avenue where the men assembled to be dispatched to the fire zone. This morning the Electrol, Inc., truck took a crew of men to the Samson fire.

Among those who sent men to fight the fires were Pilgrim Furniture Company, Eastern Tractor, also supplied a number of their tractors to assist in throwing up fire lines and digging trenches to stem the fires.

The local Red Cross was supplying food and coffee for the firefighters and President Harold Clayton was today considering seeking aid from Captain Hickey's food conservation committee to serve as an emergency fire committee.

While the fire was considered closer to control today than at any time during the past week, it was admitted that a change in air conditions, a high wind or a continuance of the present dry weather might again put the fire out of control and place the mountain houses in serious threat. Only several days of steady rain will eliminate the danger.

Shortly after 11 o'clock a Conservation Department patrol plane spotted a fire in the Krippelush-Lyonsville area. The fire apparently had started in a pasture along the roadway and was taking its way up the mountainside. A group of fire fighters was dispatched to the scene and brought the blaze under control.

New York's water department is prohibiting fishing in the Ashokan, mainly as a precaution against the outbreak of forest fires.

The supply in the Ashokan system, meanwhile, has dropped nearly 10 millions of gallons in about 10 days. The supply was reported then at 92 billions of gallons.

Well water and other supply sources in the county was reported generally growing dangerously scarce, and some areas have been without water for more than a week.

Aged Man Found Dazed on Rt. 209; Investigation Made

Early this morning an aged man was found walking in a dazed condition along Route 209 south of Stone Ridge by Dr. Rosenbaum of Stone Ridge.

The man had a cut on the forehead and bruises on his hands and was unable to tell his name or where he lived other than that he has always lived in the vicinity of Stone Ridge or Lyonsville. Under the impression that the man may have been struck by a car, Dr. Rosenbaum notified Sheriff Smith. The injured man was picked up by Deputy Joseph Haver and taken to the Kingston Hospital.

Deputy Haver found a social security card on the man which indicated he was Sylvanus Kendrick. The man had a cut over the eye and several bruises and when taken to the hospital was still in a dazed condition and unable to give any information as to how he was injured. He was first found on the road near the Oak Ridge school by Lackawack workmen who notified Dr. Rosenbaum.

section of the room reserved for witnesses. Some spectators booed and Thomas rapped violently for order.

Then Louis J. Russell, a committee investigator, was called to the stand and testified that a Communist party membership card was issued to Lawson in 1944. He said Russell said bore number 42725 and was issued to John Howard Lawson, identified as a movie writer.

Notables Arrive at Capitol
A group of Hollywood notables led by Humphrey Bogart headed for Capitol Hill today with the avowed aim of trying to abolish the committee investigating Communism in Hollywood.

The star-studded party arrived by motorcade late last night and held a midnight news conference at which Director John Huston emphasized that members had no intention of creating a scene before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, starting the second week of its hearings. Huston declared he intended to talk to individual members of Congress in an effort to "correct the abuses" they claim have been inherent in the committee's investigation.

"We hope eventually to see this committee legislated out of existence," Huston declared. "None of the group is among the two-score movie figures subpoenaed for the hearings, but members said they would be available as witnesses if the committee chose to call them. Otherwise they planned to attend as spectators, Huston said."

The visitors indicated a particular desire to hear testimony by Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Association, who was scheduled to be questioned some time today about his attempts to persuade producers to drive Communists out of the film industry.

The committee took no formal notice of the anti-Communist party organized into the Committee for the First Amendment—and said no special arrangements had been made to accommodate them. "They will be treated just like any other spectators," a committee spokesman said.

As newsmen, actors and actresses crowded into window seats and sat on the floor in the Statler Hotel room where the news conference was held, Huston declared "There are no Communists in this group."

"We are not here to attack anybody," he added. "We are here to defend what we believe to be our rights as citizens."

The director contended that "a censorship of fear" is prevailing in Washington as a result of the House committee's activities.

Asked what he meant by this, Huston said the movie, "The Best Years of Our Lives," would not be produced in Hollywood today because some committee members have indicated they do not consider it accurate presentation of life in America.

Huston also said the group does not agree with testimony given last week by Director Sam Wood, actors Robert Taylor, Robert Montgomery, and others, that there are Communists active in Hollywood.

"All the evidence, as we have read it," Bogart, said, "has been supposition and hearsay, with no attempt by the committee to prove its truth."

That, added Bogart, is what the group objects to.

In advance of Johnston's testimony today, the Motion Picture Association demanded that the committee list all allegedly Communist movies and open argument on them, or "abandon the industry."

The demand was made by Paul V. McNutt, the Association's special counsel, who said in a statement the committee has thrown suspicion around all pictures but in proof has offered "generalized statements unsupported by evidence."

Johnston was one of six witnesses on the day's schedule. The others: John Howard Lawson, Dalton Trumbo, Alvah Bessie and Emmett Lavery, screen writers whose names have been mentioned frequently during previous testimony, and Roy Brewer, head of the A.F.L. International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

All but Brewer have been identified by committee spokesmen as "unfriendly" from the committee's viewpoint, in contrast to the "friendly" witnesses who held the spotlight all last week.

4,000 Go Aboard U.S.S. Ellyson Here on Sunday

Over 4,000 residents of Kingston and Ulster county together with people from neighboring states came aboard the U.S.S. Ellyson Sunday. The steady stream of visitors started at 9:30 and continued until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cars were parked from the beginning of the Yacht Club clear back to Shabazz street. Local police and firemen assigned to this project handled their details in excellent fashion.

As soon as one came aboard the ship, a flag hoist on the mainmast was observed which in the International Code means "Welcome." This cheerful note was somewhat subdued by the flag at half mast due to the return of our dead to the shores Sunday.

Mr. Gottfried, chairman of Navy Day committee, pointed out that the skipper of the ship, Captain Orme, was extremely obliging when he brought the ship alongside the dock in order to avoid any use of small craft to get people out to the ship had he anchored. The skipper made an excellent landing and deserves proper recognition for such a fine job.

Despite the impressive number of people visiting the ship, there was no untoward incident of any kind. The number of out of state visitors was large. License plates from Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania were very much in evidence.

From the reports of the sailors who are on liberty, it appeared that the people in Kingston lived up to their past reputation for being hospitable and cheerful.

Mr. Gottfried would like to express his thanks to Roger Billings of the Cities Service Oil Company, James G. Connelly of the American Legion and Howard Pangburn of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mr. Schoonmaker of Island Dock and Ray Garrahan of Newcombe Oil Company, for their courteous and continuous cooperation.

Guests aboard the U.S.S. Ellyson for luncheon today were Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, District Attorney Louis E. Burt, Judge John M. Cashin, the Hon. Mr. Stephen P. Connelly, James G. Connelly, James A. Dwyer, Fred Eisler, Roger Billings, the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, Howard Pangburn, Paul Owens, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Al. Reina, Louis Skekete, Louis R. Netter, Louis Landers.

Jury Is Taken

Following settlement of two assault actions brought by Elsie and William Wirsching against Fred Bordenstein, Jr., a jury was taken in Supreme Court in No. 200, Lucy Spagnolo and another against Conservation Gas Corporation, a negligence action, is also before the court, which appears by George Rusk, that plaintiff's property was damaged by fire because of improper installation of a gas tank which leaked and set fire to the premises, following an explosion. Leo F. Pitts appeared for defendant.

New Ambulance Added to Conner Fleet

Conner Ambulance Service, 296 Fair street, which operates a modern fleet of cars for transportation of patients and accident victims has added a third vehicle, a 1948 Henney-Packard.

Hamilton street, Poughkeepsie, and Charles Mohrke, 14 Milbrook Road, New Paltz. A ten-year award was presented to Peter Cantino, Jr., of Grand avenue, Newburgh.

All Conveniences For Patients Are Part of Vehicle

One of the most modern vehicles for the transportation of hospital patients and accident victims has been put into operation by the W. N. Conner Ambulance Service of 296 Fair street, making the third car of the firm's fleet.

The new ambulance is a 1948 Henney-Packard custom built Super-eight built by the Henney Motor Company of Freeport, Ill., and carries a full line of equipment for the treatment of patients.

George F. Schroeder, vice president and secretary of the Conner establishment, drove the car from the factory to Kingston, and vouches for its riding comfort. It is painted green to match the other Conner ambulances.

The Henney-Packard carries two patients and is supplied with halator for gas or drowning cases and those suffering from heart ailments is part of the equipment, also splints for broken bones and a full supply of first aid appliances. (Freeman Photo).

modern devices for comfort of stricken riders. There's an inhalator for treatment of drowning, and gas and heart attack cases; first aid kits, medicines and stimulants; and splints for broken bones. The vehicle has a radio, too.

One of the features is a hydraulic device for leveling the body of the ambulance to facilitate loading and unloading of patients. No matter what slope the chassis may be on, the body can be leveled. This is important in handling severe cases because it eliminates a lot of the stress and strain.

Windows can be operated by a device near the driver, or may be opened and closed individually from the rear of the car. They are arranged so that persons riding inside may look out, but nobody can see inside the auto, this feature being very desirable in cases where treatment is called for enroute. There's a removable rolling couch in the ambulance, also an adjustable couch-seat or stretcher.

President W. N. Conner of the ambulance firm who gave this area its first 24-hour service in 1934 with trained crews operating his cars, said he bought the new vehicle to be better prepared for giving paramount service, especially on long-distance trips.

Harry Barnhart is associated with Messrs. Conner and Schroeder in conducting the ambulance service.

Besides trained ambulance crews, there is a registered nurse in attendance whenever the occasion demands. During the week-end the ambulance was on display at the show rooms of the Harcourt Motor Company, 9 East O'Reilly street, prior to going into service today. Those interested may see it any time at the Conner establishment on Fair street.

The Policemen's Interest Includes Your Boy . . .

THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, KINGSTON, N. Y., FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 22, 1947.

Cops, Recreation Department Treat Local Boys

These boys are a happy lot, and why not! They're getting ready for a day's trip to New York city as the guests of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and the Kingston Recreation Department. The tour took them to metropolitan points of interest such as zoos, parks, museums and other attractions. Some of them got their first glimpse of the world's largest city for the first time. Even if they live to the age of 100 these youngsters will remember the kind consideration of Recreation Director Harry L. Edson and the police. A cop can be a boy's best friend is the consensus of this group. Patrolmen in the photo are, from left, George Bowers, William Messing, James Welch and Gerald Every. (Freeman Photo)

The above reprint from The Kingston Daily Freeman tells the story. But the cops had a good time, too, in making this trip possible and making it possible for these and many other boys to have play equipment and good fun . . . the kind of fun that makes boys friends . . . of policemen, law and order, with respect for property. The policemen's interest includes your boy.

POLICE PROPOSITION "A" on the voting machines for this November 4 Election will make more of this boy-police cooperation possible, if it is approved by the electorate.

In presenting this proposition to the voters, the police have considered "the other fellow" . . . keeping a long-delayed increase in pay to a minimum which will enable them to live decently and have some small part in citizenship obligations.

"A" is a fair-play—fair-pay proposition asking the voter for an increase, which will make the pay of Kingston policemen still far below that of other cities, and the cost a negligible one. It's as fair as we know how to make it, in a live-and-let-live spirit.

On this fair-play—fair-pay Proposition "A" VOTE "YES" ON ELECTION DAY

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 27, 1947

A GOLDEN AGE

If Stalin, the Russian dictator, wants no more war, as he is credited with stating, that seems to make it unanimous. Certainly Britain and America have no desire for war, viewed for any purpose or from any angle. There are doubtless some smaller nations, nursing grudges of one kind and another, or eager to take advantages here and there as they may develop; but even they dread war with its dire disasters; and in general, the world's attitude and desire is for peace, whereby, in the biblical phrase every man may lie down in peace, under his own vine and fig tree. Or in more modern phraseology, he may get back to the job and carry on without interference, in prosperity and satisfaction.

The world is wide, but immensely smaller than it used to be, so that international war risks are too great and perilous for tolerance, in any country or between any countries.

The world is also rich in the things that mankind desires, lacking only the assurance of peace and cooperation to bring them to fruition. This should be the golden age of mankind, if mankind will do the work needed to bring it about.

Comparatively few fathers can afford to give their daughters $370,000 weddings, but the Duke of Alba can. This Spanish nobleman is reported to have spent that much on this occasion, one of the items being a $50,000 wedding dress. Needless to add, he is regarded as the wealthiest Spaniard alive.

RUFFING AND THE WAR

When Red Ruffing was released by Chicago the other day, it ended any last lingering hope of his being one of the few pitchers to win 300 games. Ruffing has won 272, and two more seasons would let him reach the coveted mark that only 12 pitchers before him have attained. Had it not been for the war, Ruffing would undoubtedly have made it. His four years in the service spoiled his chances.

Ruffing's fate, however, is no worse than that of many a boy whom the war cost four years of married life and business success. Wars are like that.

The fall is the time when husky truck drivers and miners with an aptitude for football can enjoy for a short time the advantages of a college education. After the semester is over, they can always get their old jobs back.

BARKING, NOT BITING

"Russia will not leave the United Nations because that would deprive her of a wonderful sounding-board. The proceedings of the UN are world news. Articles in Pravda or speeches to a Russian audience do not begin to command the attention that is given to an address before the Security Council."

This point, made by former Judge Dorothy Kenyon of New York, an American delegate to the UN Commission on the Status of Women, has much to recommend it. As far as leaving the UN is concerned, the Russian bark is decidedly more than its bite.

A New York vice-president excused himself from a business conference the other day, and threw himself out of a skyscraper window. Many business conferences make those attending feel just that way.

SAMSON'S MUSCLE

Uncle Sam shows his muscle again. After bearing the brunt of a great war, he announces that he can uphold the exhausted nations of western Europe "without seriously draining its resources." This is doubtless the most impressive task of the kind ever undertaken.

It must be realized, however, that the nation's financial power is not unlimited, and it is essential that the burden's weight shall be held in proper bounds.

The fact is that human nature seems to be as incorrigible as ever, always getting into some new kind of trouble by trying to beat the other fellow.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

INTIMIDATION OF THE COURTS

It has come to me that the Communists and their Left Wing sympathizers and associates plan to intimidate the courts by overwhelming them with contempt procedures. After all, if 500 or 1,000 people are brought into the courts on contempt charges for refusal to testify before Congressional Committees or before Administrative Agencies of government, the courts might find themselves handicapped. It is like blocking the telephone lines during a strike so that only a busy signal comes when the particular office is called.

Already some 18 or 19 such cases have been brought into the courts within a short period, principally for refusing to testify before the Thomas Committee on the grounds that the Committee is improperly constituted because Representative Rankin was improperly elected. The lawyers who bring these cases know that the law is against them, that only the Congress can decide who shall constitute its membership, that the Congress has already decided that Representative Rankin was duly elected and he has been sworn in and seated and that, for all practical purposes, that closes the matter. They bring the issue only to clog the procedure.

At the present time, there is speculation as to whether the actors, screen-writers, directors, etc., who are accused of being Communists, will testify or will permit themselves to be held in contempt. In the latter event, 79 persons will have to appear before the courts, will probably be given a year for contempt, will appeal and will hope that two years might pass before the appeal is heard.

No question of freedom of speech, or thought, or expression is involved in this investigation. Congress has a constitutional right to investigate such questions as involve the welfare of the United States. A Congressional Committee is not a court of law and no man can be declared guilty of anything by a Congressional Committee.

I once had an experience with such a committee, presided over by Senator LaFollette. I never testified before that committee nor was I asked to. Statements were made concerning me which were untrue or half-true and which Communists, their allies and others have used for years against me. I have paid little attention to all this because were I guilty of any crime, the law would have proceeded against me. As no crime was committed, the ugliness is a matter of implication and assumption.

These alleged Communists or those accused or denounced as Communists are in precisely that position. If they have committed no felonies or misdemeanors, they have nothing to fear. If, on the other hand, they have acted as a Fifth Column for an alien power, no propagandistic activity about freedom of speech or thought or expression will help them. Even if they refuse to testify, it will avail them little because this, as every other country, must protect itself against treason from within. All these men and women or none of them may be guilty—it is better to know.

Incidentally, I received the following notice: "Your attention is called to the recent decision of the New York State Court of Appeals.

"This decision holds that it is libelous to falsely call any person a Communist. The decision also goes so far as to make it libelous to falsely refer to a person as a Communist sympathizer, Communistically inclined, or any such designation.

"Such, or any similar statements should not be made against any person, corporation, or institution unless they are provably true.

"Of course, the press may publish such accusations with complete impunity, but making a fair and true report of any judicial, legislative or any public and official proceeding.

"This refers to an unrealistic decision by Judge Stanley Fuld of the above mentioned court who may have a leg to stand on in the law but none in common sense and the course of events. Does not many of us know (I suppose he does not) that many of the Communist Party members in the field of Communism in this country deny their affiliations? But Judge or no judge, we shall find a word to protect America from treachery as well as stupidity. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

Recently, I heard a clergyman state that there never was a time when men and women had so many things in life to give them comfort, yet never was there a time when there was so much unhappiness in the world. He pointed out the hardships of our pioneer forefathers and how bravely they met them while we, with so much for which to be thankful, were unhappy and unafraid.

Of course, there are some happy, carefree people in the world. But the greatest number are not happy. Think of the sorrows of people in Europe, of the unrest of masses of workers who naturally want security for today and tomorrow and it is only natural that depression of spirits, even in buoyant individuals, is becoming a common ailment affecting us physically, mentally and emotionally.

Physicians treating patients for physical symptoms are finding that many ailments really are caused by depression of spirits.

In the "Canadian Medical Journal," Dr. Gilbert L. Adamson, Winnipeg, writing on "Clinical Depressions," divides the common symptoms into two groups—somatic (body) and psychic (mind and emotions).

Somatic: Fatigue, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, headache, flushes, muscle and joint pains, and sexual disturbances.

Psychic: Sleeplessness, tenseness, poor concentration and memory, nervous feelings and perhaps crying spells and guilt feelings.

The patient never thinks that his depressed feelings are causing his symptoms and consults his physician about his stomach, nerves, heart, or other organs.

By careful examination the physician is able to reassure the patient that no organic disease is present. He then explains how depression of spirits upsets the proper working of heart, stomach, nerves, blood vessels and other organs.

The knowledge that no disease is present and that his symptoms are due to not facing life bravely shows the patient his need of taking hold of himself and also of some Higher Power.

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

Everybody Wants T'Get in the Act

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Oct. 26.—The excuse offered by several eminent, inveterate polluters of the Hollywood-White House-Kremlin Axis, that they didn't know they were hosts to Communism in the United States, is a fair example of the contempt of this rogue industry for the intelligence of the American people. On the basis of a long and profitable experience, during which the movies have mocked the decency and inhibitions of the American natives and sneered at every political ideal, this attitude is justified. These men sell phantoms originally intended for the innocent amusement of the people. There is a mechanical elaboration of the hand shadows on a sheet by which the fathers of the American generation next before entered the children until nine o'clock curfew.

It is unthinkable that any such household magician ever projected any moral or political corruption, but the same cannot be said of Hollywood. In this way the movie industry became a commercial and political giant, won entrance to our presidential palace and even put Roosevelt under obligations to him. He gave preference to writers of this type, and other esthetes and intellectuals, in arranging flight to the United States. He wasn't bothering to rescue farmers, carpenters or bakers. Their lives, by some standard of values, were less precious, not that we had too many farmers, carpenters or bakers or needed any more writers, actors and lecturers, particularly evil ingrates now found in the Communist conspiracy against the people who gave them asylum.

There are a few plain truths which fell on the floor in the commotion at the public hearings last week and need to be picked up. One magnate, in a glow of that political emotion called "democracy" or "liberalism," both counterfeits, said he abhorred Communists and would fire them if he could but did not dare call a man on a mere suspicion or Bolshevism. Not only would this invite a libel suit, an expensive business, win or lose, but it is almost impossible to get rid of an offensive employee under our labor laws and union rules.

A few nights later, finding myself in the wise company of a lady only a few years past renowned in the Hollywood make-believe, I was disillusioned to hear her say that a movie magnate hadn't had much trouble firing her and several others whom I recall as equally toothsome.

"The language they use is blunt," said she. "They just say to a girl or else. Couldn't they think of something just as clever to say to get rid of a Communist?"

As a journeyman word-worker of long experience and wide acquaintance, I have learned that ours is a trade or craft and not an art. I have read the acclaim of a thousand books and plays which were living, human documents in the last 25 years, not one of which had any more artistic merit than the routine tapings of tired fingers on any newspaper. The greatest acclaim has been heaped on dirty-minded men and women according to the violence they do to American morals and our political establishment. But actually, there are no Communist writers, musicians, directors or actors in Hollywood or in the younger crop in the newspaper offices where most of the Hollywood crew came from in the first place.

The producers can clean house whenever they decide to. All they need do is draw the list of Communists, initial it and pass it around and never pay one of them another dollar. They will scream that this would be a conspiracy and that they could be sued, prosecuted and punished, but that is all a fraud. They have done the same thing in the past to hundreds of men and women but for other reasons, including the deadliest political reason of them all in the beautiful and horrid, hilarious and hateful world of our commercial entertainment. I refer to the sin of "Fascism." Many a forthright American has been damned to the black Siberia of oblivion on the more malicious report of some Communist that the accused had called some vermin a name too well deserved.

Red Slanted Films

The Congressional probes into Communism in Hollywood films are not prosecuting attorneys. They are not constituted to try, fine and imprison traitors and alien agents of a foreign power.

The committee has another job more important: to rouse the countryside to the facts of Red infiltration, Red organization, espionage and plotting against representative, constitutional government and American traditions.

When enough farmers and grocers and factory hands and club women and former GIs see how we are being taken for a ride they will send an administration to Washington which will take care of the prosecuting of the guilty.

As a fact-finding and publicity agent, the committee is getting into its stride. In previous years, notably when Martin Dies had so much damaging evidence of left-wing conspiracies on the hook that its proper appraisal by the American public would have meant the end of New Deal power, Franklin D. Roosevelt and a self-constituted underground of goon squads, left-wing publishers and government appointees, movie infiltrators, radio commentators and glibbie dogooders worked together like cheering squads to drown out anything Dies tried to tell us and to make him look like a publicity hound.

Committee Chairman Thomas, opening the current star-studded hearings, said, "We want to find out once and for all whether or not the Communists actually control scenarios, film labor and some movie stars." He might have added: "and some producers and film backers."

"Crossfire" Agitates
 It is to be hoped that the committee will pin the guilt on the "lottery" so well that the Justice Department will be forced to take legal action or the public will boycott producers and actors to force a clean-up.

"Crossfire" is an example of the popular trend in pro-Communist films. It exaggerates the abuse of racial minorities. Another such misrepresentation of American troops to cover a territory which extended no further than Wood Creek at the south end of Lake Champlain, one report said, and in April this area shipped 536 shepels of corn to Albany to feed the garrison there.

Then in November of that year, Major Thomas Chambers, with approximately 100 "good able men," was directed to be at Albany by January 1, 1931. This was done because there were "repeated rumors that plans for an invasion were under consideration."

Other calls for troops followed within the next few years but the problems of settlers in this state were lost in the greater conflict between France and England which was finally settled on the Plains of Abraham at Quebec.

Meanwhile, it seems, the settlers of Ulster and others in the region had little rest from the fear of war or Indian uprisings, and strangely enough, that fear is not too uncommon among us today, excluding the Indians, of course.

MEET YOUR MAYOR!

THE FOURTH TERM CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR, IN THE PRESENT CAMPAIGN PROMISES, IN POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS:

"Re-elect me and keep the government of the City in the hands of the people who pay the bills"

THAT IS HIS PROMISE.

WHAT HAS BEEN THE PERFORMANCE?

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
PROCUREMENT DIVISION
350 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK 1, N. Y.

December 22, 1944

Hon. Wm. F. Edelmuth, Mayor
City of Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Mayor Edelmuth:

Reference is made to occupancy grant given to the government by the City of Kingston for certain land in Woodstock, N. Y., on which the former NYA buildings are erected.

We have been approached by a group of Woodstock citizens, through the Russell Sage Foundation, for the use of these buildings.

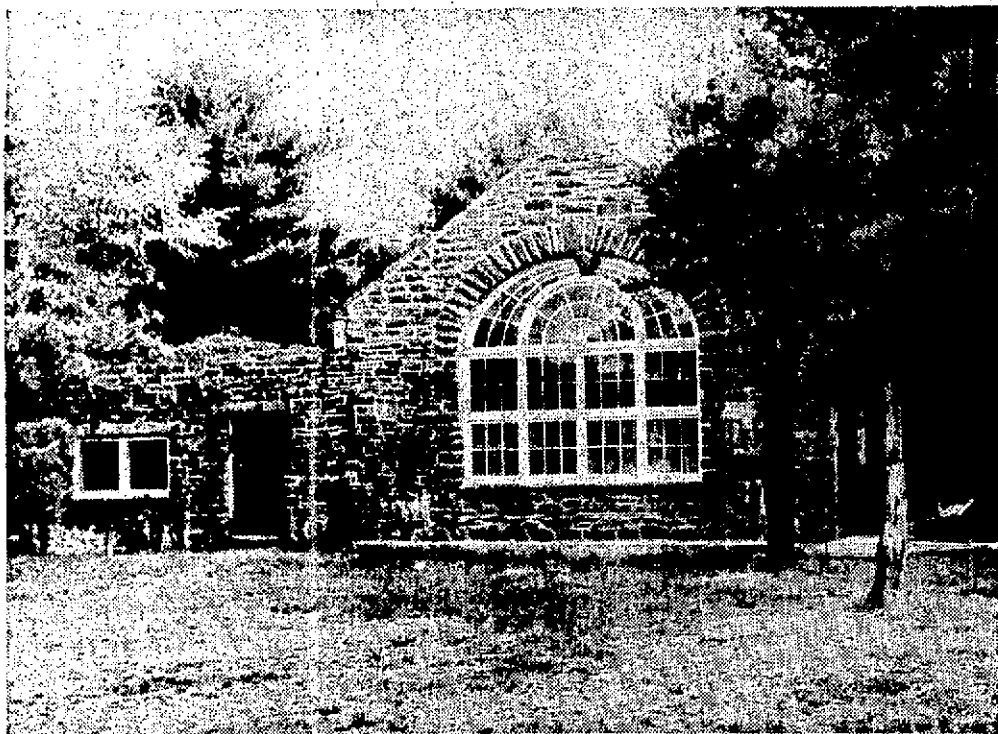

Inasmuch as the land lease is controlled by the City of Kingston, we beg to inquire as to whether an arrangement can be satisfactorily worked out for the sale of the buildings to the City of Kingston at a fair value, and subsequent sale or lease by the City to the interested parties at Woodstock.

If the City of Kingston is not presently in a position to take over title to the buildings, we may be able to license the use of the improvements to you for a worthwhile purpose.

May we hear from you, and if you deem it advisable, I shall be pleased to confer with you and the other members of the City Council.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) W. A. CONKLIN
For V. J. Rader
Deputy Regional Director

This letter addressed to the fourth term candidate, offering the City an opportunity to acquire these buildings, was IGNORED. It was NEVER ANSWERED.

HERE IS ANOTHER OF THE BUILDINGS THE CITY COULD HAVE HAD BUT FOR THE NEGLECT OF THE FOURTH TERM CANDIDATE. GOTTFRIED BOUGHT THESE BUILDINGS FOR $1,400.00 AND SOLD THEM FOR $15,000.00

United States Treasury,
Office of Surplus Properties,
Empire State Bldg.,
New York City, N. Y.
Att: Mr. Conklin

March 20th, 1945

Dear Sir:

Mr. Harold Gottfried of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs, Inc., has consulted with me concerning the N. Y. A. properties located in the Town of Woodstock, Ulster County, New York.

Your records will indicate that the land is property owned by the City of Kingston and that buildings had been erected thereon by the United States Government as part of its N.Y.A. program some years ago. I am informed that the buildings have been sold to Pure Rock Mineral Springs and/or Harold Gottfried but that formal title to the buildings has not yet been given for the reason that your Department desires to have some assurance by way of a release or other statement from the City of Kingston releasing the United States Government or the Treasury Department from any claim or liability with respect to the buildings thereon.

I am authorized to write you that since Mr. Gottfried is willing to assume all responsibility with respect to the buildings on this property that the City of Kingston releases the United States of America, the Treasury Department and any other governmental agency involved from any claims or liability whatsoever with respect to the buildings or land used in connection therewith.

Very truly yours,
ARTHUR B. EWIG,
Corporation Counsel

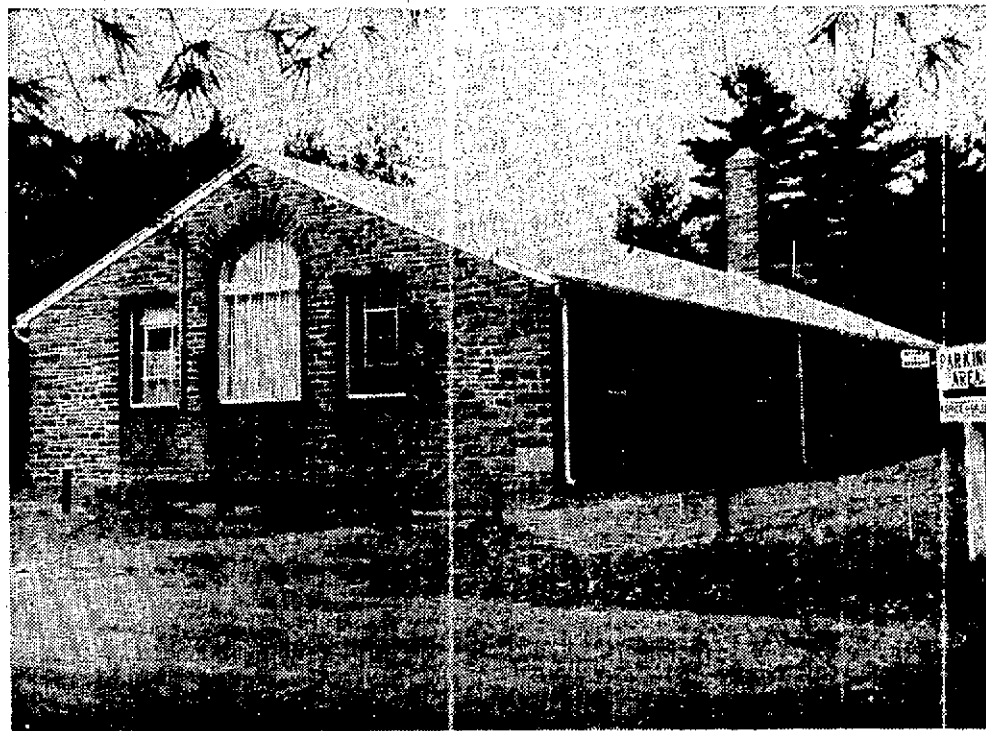

By the above letter, the fourth term candidate's Corporation Counsel without consulting with the proper City authorities, released these valuable buildings to MR. GOTTFRIED.

The City Charter provides: "The Common Council shall  have the control and management of the property, both real and personal, belonging to the City of Kingston,  and shall have the power to purchase, hold, sell, convey—real estate.

Despite this provision of the City Charter, the Corporation Counsel choose to ignore the Common Council and never brought the matter to its attention until after he had surrendered the City's rights.

As a result of the negligence of the fourth term candidate and his Corporation Counsel, the City of Kingston lost its opportunity of acquiring this valuable property which it could have sold at a handsome profit. Is this what the Democrat candidate means when he asks the Voters of Kingston to keep the government in the hands of the people who pay the Bills?

WHO PAID THIS BILL?

THIS IS ONE OF THE BUILDINGS OFFERED TO THE CITY IN DECEMBER, 1944. THEY WERE BUILT AT A COST OF MORE THAN $50,000.00

Mr. Arthur Ewig
270 Fair St.
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Ewig:

On January 19, I purchased from the Treasury Department, Office of Surplus Property, the former N.Y.A. Buildings, at Woodstock, N. Y. They have requested me to secure a full release of the Government's obligation to the land lease dated May 14, 1943 between the City of Kingston and the U. S. of America. It is my understanding that the city of Kingston rents the ground mentioned in the lease between the Treasury Department and the city of Kingston.

Kindly secure this release for me and in addition, I would appreciate your inquiring as to the possibility of the purchase of the ground. Otherwise, I will have to remove the buildings from the site which would be of no benefit to anyone concerned.

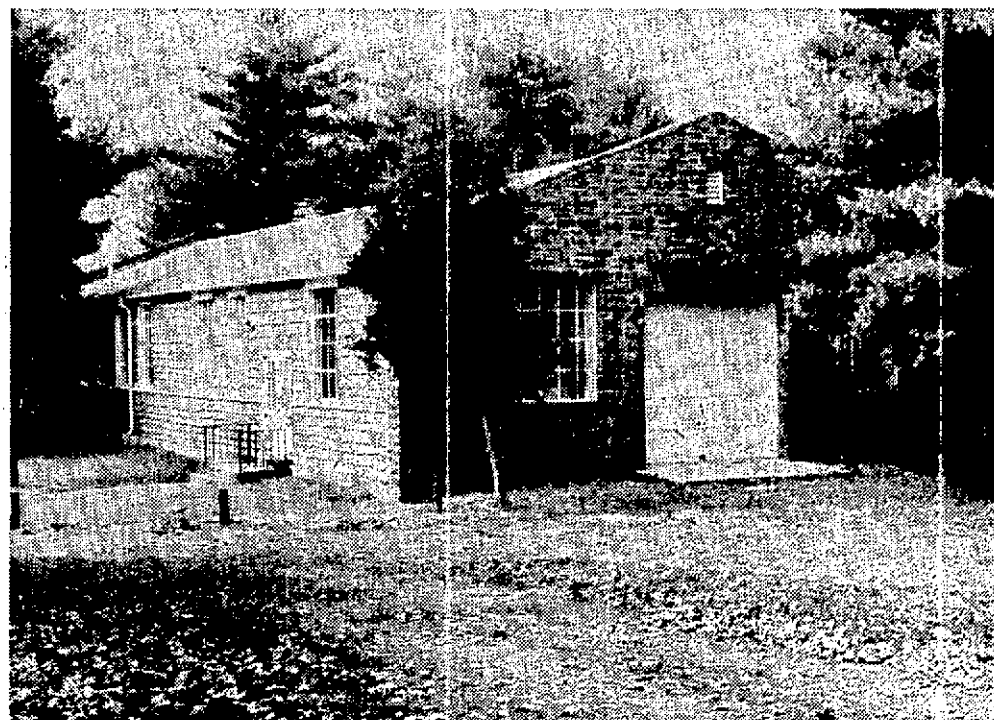

Very truly yours,
PURE ROCK MINERAL SPRINGS CORP.

5,000 Force Eisler Meeting to Cancel Trenton Schedule

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 27 (AP)—A booing, jostling crowd estimated at 5,000—defying police and a Chancery Court order—last night forced cancellation of a Communist meeting which was to have heard Gerhardt Eisler, who has been described as the No. 1 Communist in the United States.

Eisler did not appear at the meeting hall in the Contemporary Club, across the street from the State House. Manuel Cantor, Mercer county secretary of the Communist party, said Eisler was in Trenton, but stayed away from the hall because of "fear for his safety."

Six hundred persons jammed into the club building and forced down each speaker who arose. Some 4,400 others—according to police estimate—milled around on the street outside.

Appeals from civic and veterans organizations failed to quiet the crowd, many of whom said they were veterans.

Three would-be speakers on the platform were not received, and police escorted them from the hall when the meeting was called off after an hour and a half of demonstration by their opponents.

Chancery Court had ordered that there be no interference with the meeting, and Mayor Donald Connolly said he had provided "sufficient police protection"—52 uniformed and plainclothes men, constituting the capital city's entire foot police force.

Mrs. Mary Goodman, an officer of the Contemporary club, said Cantor had leased the hall without disclosing that he planned a Communist meeting. The club cancelled the permit for the hall after the purpose was learned. A court order by Vice Chancellor John O. Bigelow, sitting at Newark, voided the cancellation and directed the club officers, city officials and police to let the meeting proceed.

Just before the meeting was called off, a veteran in the protesting crowd started to sing the "Star Spangled Banner," and others, including the three on the platform, joined in.

Eisler was convicted in Federal Court at Washington on Aug. 15 for passport fraud. Sentence was deferred pending motion for a new trial.

Charmello-Heaney Nuptials Solemnized At St. Peter's Church

St. Peter's Church was the setting Sunday at 2:30 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Betty Ann Heaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heaney, 91 Hone street, to Louis J. Charmello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Charmello, 123 Second avenue. The Rev. Henry E. Hordgen performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Nan Goldrick was organist. Edward Cherny sang "Ave Maria." The church was decorated with ferns, palms, candles and yellow and white pompons.

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a white slipper gown made with fitted bodice, scalloped lace yoke trimmed with sequins; long pointed sleeves, full skirt on train trimmed with ruffles, lace insertions and sequins. Her three-quarter length veil, trimmed with lace edge, was attached to a headpiece of lace. She carried a white prayer book with white orchid and streamers of sweet peas.

Her sister, Miss Dolores Heaney, maid of honor, wore a yellow tulle gown, yellow bonnet and veil, and carried pink pompons and red roses with American beauty streamers. Bridesmaids were the Misses Florence DeCicco, cousin of the bridegroom, in lime green tulle; Laura DeCicco, cousin of the bridegroom, in orchid tulle; Marion Ferdinand, cousin of the bridegroom, in aqua tulle; Nancy Erena, in pink tulle; and Mary Erena in powder blue tulle. They wore matching tulle veils and carried pink and white pompons. Linny Dawok, cousin of the bridegroom, as flower girl wore a white slipper gown, miniature of the bride's, made from the train of her mother's wedding gown; wreath of pink and white pompons and carried a bouquet of pink and white pompons with pink and blue streamers.

Charles Charmello was best man for his brother, Robert Heaney, brother of the bride, James DeCicco, Frank Ferdinand, cousins of the bridegroom; Patrick Charmello, brother of the bridegroom; and Paul Donahue, cousin of the bride, were ushers. Francis Tamassoski was ring bearer.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Tommie's Restaurant. Music was provided by Danny Blittner and his orchestra and luncheon was served buffet style. Mr. and Mrs. Charmello left for a wedding trip to New York and New Jersey. For traveling she chose a grey suit with white blouse, black accessories, white topper and white orchid corsage. They will reside with the bridegroom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School and Kingston High School. She is a member of Catholic Daughters and is employed at F. Jacobson and Sons. Mr. Charmello was graduated from St. Mary's School and is employed at Kingston Knitting Mills.

Married Sunday

MR. AND MRS. FRANCOIS T. COUGHLIN

Francis Coughlin Weds Theresa C. Kennedy In Eddyville Church

Miss Theresa Catherine Kennedy, daughter of Mrs. Theresa Kennedy of Eddyville, and the late James Kennedy, was united in marriage to Francis Thomas Coughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coughlin, 48 Hunter street, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed at Sacred Heart Church, Eddyville, by the Rev. Joseph O'Rourke.

Miss John Smith was organist. Miss Joan Lynch as soloist sang "Ave Maria." The church was decorated with white pompons and candelabra.

James Kennedy gave his sister in marriage. She wore a white slipper gown on train, high nylon neckline, long pointed sleeves and fingertip veil caught to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book covered with a gardenia corsage.

Miss Theresa A. Kennedy of Eddyville, niece of the bride, wore an orchid water stained tulle gown with matching mitts and headpiece. She carried yellow roses.

James Coughlin, Elizabeth, N. J., was best man for his brother, Ushers were Paul Kennedy of Port Ewen, brother of the bride; Thomas Coughlin, Jr., brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for 90 guests was held at the Roseland. Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin left for a wedding trip to New York city and Washington, D. C. For traveling the bride wore a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Coughlin is a graduate of Kingston High School and Spence's Business School. She is employed by Mutual Insurers Agency, Inc., Island Dock, as stenographer. Mr. Coughlin was graduated from St. Mary's School, attended Kingston High School and is employed by Kingston City Fire Department as a fireman. He served three years in the army and was overseas two years in both the European and Pacific theatres.

Good Taste Today

STEPMOTHER IN NO WAY IGNORED

An example of making oneself unhappy over a non-existing situation is shown in this letter: "When my husband's son became engaged, great emphasis was laid upon his real mother—her antecedents, etc.—and no mention whatever was made even of my existence. The wedding is to be a very large one. The announcement in the papers read, 'son of Mr. . . . and the late Mrs. . . .' It may be most embarrassing to all concerned—particularly to me—if I appear at the wedding. Every stranger quite naturally will ask, 'Who is she?' Of course, I shall do anything to keep peace, but I do not understand why I was ignored, unless this is customary and correct procedure. My stepson's mother has been gone 15 years and I've been in the family almost 10."

Your point of view is quite wrong. No one could possibly imagine any slight to you because the mother who bore your stepson is brought briefly to memory—as is the proper behavior. I take it for granted that at the wedding you will be escorted up the aisle immediately preceding the bride's mother and that you will be seated in the front row on the right side of the aisle, indicating your position in the family. Also, at the reception, you will stand in the receiving line next to the bride's mother or elsewhere with your husband, if you prefer. In any case, you will be given the courtesy due you as the bridegroom's father's wife.

Giving Photographs
Dear Mrs. Post: I had some photographs taken of myself recently to give to members of my family. I find, however, that I have several left over and would like to give them to some of my friends, but don't know whether I should have them wait until they ask to have a picture. What is the correct procedure?

Answer: Give them to your best friends, but not to casual acquaintances.

Indirect Invitation Discourteous
Dear Mrs. Post: When inviting a fiancée's family to dinner for the first time, must the invitation be sent directly to his mother or may it be given through the daughter's fiancée?

Answer: It should be sent directly to his mother.

Mrs. Post's booklet, "The Etiquette of Service," No. 503, gives three types of table service to follow when entertaining guests. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin) and a 2-cent postage stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. complimented the officers for their good work. President Russell Eren, Secretary Jack Sharoff, who is chief of police; and Herb Anton, treasurer.

The annual pay of patrolmen in this village of 4,000 people is $2,850 in comparison to Kingston's $2,400 maximum, and the 25-year pension plan is in operation.

Mr. Keresman was introduced by Chief Sharoff as "one who individually has done more for policemen and police organizations than any member of the P.B.A. or Police Conference."

The other speaker, who assured the police of cooperation in the State Legislature, was Assemblyman James G. Lyons from Sullivan county.

EAT WELL for Less

Peanuts Substitute for Meat
By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

To stabilize your food budget and also to conform with meatless Tuesday, use protein-rich peanuts in the main dinner dish. They have not only a high protein content, but are also rich in B vitamins. When you cut down on meat, high in B vitamins, you should use more of other foods which contain them. They are needed for appetite, nerve health and prevention of fatigue.

Peanut Ring Mold
Two cups steamed rice (leftover rice may be used), ½ cup salted peanuts (coarsely ground), 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, if desired, 1 teaspoon paprika, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon onion juice.

Mix steamed rice and ground peanuts. Arrange in buttered ring mold. Mix milk, egg, salt, paprika, onion juice and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over rice and peanut mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Serve with glazed carrots in center. Garnish with parsley and ripe olives.

Cheese and Peanut Loaf
Two tablespoons chopped onion,

1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons water, 1 cup salted peanuts, finely chopped, 1 cup grated cheese, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, -cup fine bread crumbs, ½ cup milk, salt, if desired, pepper.

Cook chopped onion until tender in butter and water. Mix all other ingredients. Add salt and pepper as desired. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake for 20 to 30 minutes in a preheated moderate oven (300 to 350 degrees F.).

MEATLESS TUESDAY MENU
BREAKFAST: Canned grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato surprise salad (stuffed with cottage cheese), whole wheat bread and fortified margarine sandwiches, sliced bananas and oranges, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, peanut ring mold with buttered carrots tossed green salads, rolls, butter or fortified margarine, apple turnover, coffee, milk.

be affected, or only a few. The lack of control may be in the arms, legs, tongue, speech mechanism, eyes or it may affect hearing. Many cases of cerebral palsy are caused by injury to the brain during birth, or by faulty development of the brain. Injury or disease during the first five years of life may also produce the condition. Such cases as encephalitis or meningitis may result in cerebral palsy by producing scar tissue in the brain.

Treatment consists in retraining the patient in the use and control of affected muscles; and in providing the special types of education needed. Each case requires intensive diagnostic investigation which will disclose the extent of the disability, the muscles affected, and the mental capacity of the patient.

Initial steps have been taken toward the formation of an Ulster County Cerebral Palsy organization at a meeting of county residents interested in the problem at the home of Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Thursday. The program of similar organizations in the Albany area was described by Mrs. Anne Scarborough, Cossack, and Mrs. John Bagley of Catskill.

Present at the meeting were several parents of local children afflicted with cerebral palsy. Dr. Henry I. Bibb, Herbert E. Johnson, George James and Mrs. Ruth L. Wilkinson, orthopedic supervising nurse. A slate of temporary officers was elected including Rabbi Bloom, chairman; Mrs. George Clark, vice president; Mrs. Catherine Coughlin, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Mann, treasurer.

At the session it was brought out that there are at least 27 known cases of cerebral palsy residing in Ulster County. These children present a difficult problem in treatment and education and there are only limited facilities provided by the State leaving many problems to be solved by local organizations interested in this work. Many local organizations have already been formed in this state, Mrs. Bagley stated.

Mrs. Scarborough, in describing the program of the Albany association, mentioned the need for a treatment center staffed by trained orthopedists, pediatricians and physiotherapists. In addition, special educational facilities have been provided, including experts in speech training, occupational therapy and specially trained academic teachers.

Cooperation has been afforded these local cerebral palsy organizations by the National Society for Crippled Children, whose fund raising campaign has taken the form of an Easter seal sale.

To Meet Nov. 20
Plans were made to hold the next meeting at the Kingston City Laboratory Thursday evening, November 20, at 8 p. m. All persons interested in the health or educational problems of the cerebral palsy patient are urged to attend.

Cerebral palsy, popularly called spastic paralysis, is a condition in which muscular control is impaired or lost. The disability may be severe or very mild. Many muscles or groups of muscles may

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP)—Uncle Booby has done laid down that sword and shield.

He's going to spend the rest of his life down by the river, taking it easy. He has retired from the active pursuit of further self.

"I don't have a lot—but I have enough," says Uncle Booby.

His decision has kind of surprised the rest of the family. Uncle Booby—my father's brother—was the youngest of 18 children, and he is the first member of the family to retire since grandfather.

Tom Boyle came to America after the Civil War.

The rest of them just kept on chasing the dollar till they died, but Uncle Booby says there's more to life than that.

"I'm going to travel—going to see California," he says.

Uncle Booby has never been one to slight a good time. He almost saw France in the First World War. He was on the way over but when the Germans heard Uncle Booby was coming they gave up, and the American Government turned the ship around in mid-ocean and brought Uncle Booby right back home.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT | POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Except for that Paris would still remember him. Nobody who spent more than an hour with Uncle Booby could ever forget him. He was always a rainbow chaser, and he hasn't quit yet.

When he hung up his army uniform in 1918, he went to work in my father's grocery store in Kansas City. But all he was interested in then was dancing. He was best at a kind of dance in which you bounced up and down like you were on two pogo sticks.

About once a year Uncle Booby still gets out on the floor at family reunions and does that same dance. He hasn't bothered to learn a new one, because he figures one good dance will last a lifetime.

He has a bay window and now wears down quickly, but the spirit's still there.

When he worked for dad he could dance all night, but the next day he had a hard time at the meat block slicing up pork loins. Hardly able to lift a cleaver some mornings.

"Pretty heavy today," he'd say, and wink.

Uncle Booby lived at our house then. He didn't like us kids to call him by his nickname, so he began paying us ten cents a week to call him by his real name—"Uncle Martin." But he got behind in his payments and owes me for twenty-two years. A ten cent a week that came to $14.40. So he's still "Uncle Booby."

Well, in time he went into business for himself. He and Aunt Stella opened a small neighborhood grocery store, and Uncle Booby had a large wooden figure of a butcher made to his likeness. It served the same purpose as the old cigar store Indians. Customers could look down the street, and if they didn't see the wooden butcher standing outside they knew the store wasn't open. Uncle Booby was never one to make an man take an unnecessary step.

Because he was the youngest, he was always regarded by his brothers and sisters as the perennial "baby of the family."

But Uncle Booby grew up fast. He did well during the war and now he's sold his store and decided to take life easy. He still is a few years shy of 60, and the old wanderlust has got him. The rest of the family can't get over the fact one of the tribe really has retired, and they want him to stay put.

"Well, I haven't seen California," says Uncle Booby, "and I ain't getting any younger."

Under the auspices of the
ROSENDALE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

At Firemen's Hall, Rosendale

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28th

AT 8:00 P. M.

CANDIDATES

JOHN J. MOONEY—Supervisor
ABRAM DUNN—Town Clerk
CHRIS RAISNER—Collector
PATRICK O'CONNOR—Supt. of Highways

AUGUST V. O'NEILL—Justice of the Peace
WILLFRED DODD—Counselman
DEMICK CHRISTIANA—Assessor 2-Year Term
LEO CURREN—School Director

Meet the Candidates

PERCY BUSH

Percy Bush, Republican candidate for justice of the peace of the town of Ulster, seeks re-election this fall for the full term. His past record as a justice of the peace since 1939, and as a citizen of the town indicates his qualifications. He has always taken an active part in the affairs of the town and has been active in every move to better his town as a place to reside. Since he has served his town as a justice many important matters have been heard before him and he has earned for himself a reputation of fairness and firmness which have been combined to bring about at all times real justice.

As a member of the town board of the township of Ulster he has always endeavored to give to the residents the best possible town government and at the same time he has endeavored to give them such government at a reasonable cost. His interest in town affairs and his suggestions on government have frequently served to save the taxpayers a considerable sum in reduced taxes.

Born at The Vly in the town of Marlborough, March 15, 1910, Percy Bush has spent a considerable portion of his life in the town of Ulster and is well and favorably known throughout that town. On June 24, 1934 he married Esther Ellsworth and they have one daughter born February 20, 1942.

Percy Bush was first elected justice of the peace in 1939 and has served two terms. For eight years he has been sole trustee of Public School District No. 8, town of Ulster, a position which carries no salary. He has always been active in the school affairs of the town and sought to give the students from his school district the best possible advantages. He is serving now as master of Lake Katrine Grange, No. 1065, and is a member of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association. In his town he is serving as vice-president of Ulster Hose Company No. 6.

Beside taking an active part in the town government Mr. Bush has given generously of his time to numerous civic and charitable works. He has always served actively on various financial drives, is active in Boy Scout work and has served as a member of the Troop committee of No. 80, Lake Katrine Troop.

While serving as a justice of the peace, Mr. Bush has always made himself available for the duties of that office no matter what the day or hour may have been. On this splendid record of public service, Mr. Bush again seeks the support of the people of the town of Ulster to return him to the office of justice of the peace.

Kern Will Speak
At Y.M. Meeting
At Triangle Acres

Rene J. Kern, physical director of the Brooklyn Central Y.M.C.A., will address a Keymen's Council Wednesday night at Triangle Acres, local Y.M.C.A. campsite. The session will be the first of its type since the war and will be a gathering of staff members, officers, board members and the general membership. They will represent such activities as basketball, bowling, handball, social affairs and the dormitory program.

A group of 40 is expected to attend. Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. and a message by the Rev. Raymond Pontier will follow.

A discussion will follow the talk by Physical Director Kern and the board of directors will hold its meeting during the discussion period.

Various meetings will be summarized by the Brooklyn director at a fireside closing meeting. He has years of experience with this type of "Y" council in Brooklyn and it is expected that the local

STANLEY J. PETRO

Stanley J. Petro, who is the Republican candidate to succeed himself as supervisor of the Third ward, has been a resident of that ward for the past 19 years. He is thoroughly familiar with the needs of his ward and Ulster county.

Mr. Petro has been employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for the past nineteen years and resides at 422 Hasbrouck avenue with his wife, the former Winifred McCutcheon, and his five children. Richard is a student at the M.J.M. school and Mary-Wynne, Stanley, Judith and Marcela Jeanne attend Public School No. 5.

Stanley J. Petro has always interested himself in the civic affairs of the ward, city and county. He is a member of various clubs and organizations of the city. His policy has been to keep the county on the "pay as you go" plan and his familiarity with and interest in the needs and desires of the people of the ward and city make him the ideal man to represent the people of the Third ward and the city on the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

GLENFORD

Glenford, Oct. 24—The executive committee of the Glenford Country Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis DeGraff recently to discuss plans for winter activities. The first function will be a dance scheduled for Marge and Tom's on November 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Shults and family and Chester Shults have left for Florida where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Sherman Moore underwent an operation at the Kingston Hospital last week and is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Wesley O'Brien and Mrs. James Stoutenburgh attended a violin recital by William Hanley at Town Hall October 14.

Sgt. LeRoy O'Brien and Col. William O'Brien, who are stationed at Fort Myer, Va., have returned to their post after having spent the week-end with LeRoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley O'Brien.

Emil Braun was a business visitor in Binghamton this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mundt entertained guests from Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gould are spending some time at their cabin on Tonche mountain.

Philip Kenney, who has been employed at Lake Minnewaska during the summer, has returned to his home here.

Canada has increased its food production more than 140 per cent since 1939.

Protest Ban on Pickets
Porto Alegre, Brazil—(AP)—Students rioted with the police recently in a campaign to get a 50 per cent reduction in the prices of movies. After the students received a warning from the chief of police not to try to organize picket lines in front of the movie houses and theatres, they paraded on the streets with their mouths tied up to demonstrate against what they termed a "restriction" on their freedom of opinion.

Kingston High Held to Surprise 6-6 Tie by Fighting NFA Squad

Maroon Fizzles After Fast Start; Completely Outplayed in 2nd Half

They had better start building a new scrap book on Burke Hill. The 1946 newspaper clippings ran out on Coach Bill Burke's mysterious gridders Saturday afternoon in Newburgh when an underdog Academy eleven that didn't belong on the same field with the defending DUSO champions chased the Maroon stalwarts all over the field and earned a 6-6 tie that will be cherished for years at the Hill City institution.

Kingston emerged from a game of a thousand mechanical errors with the sad realization that the 1947 DUSO pennant is only a dream, unless they can turn back Middletown, Newburgh and Port in their next three conference assignments. On what they produced Saturday, that's going to be an awfully tough job.

They're happy in Newburgh because the Academicians were able to score the first touchdown against Kingston since the Port contest of 1946. They outlasted the Maroon, 8 to 7 in first downs, gained 109 yards to 135 rushing for Kingston but atoned for their ground deficiencies by outpacing the Maroon 83 yards to 46.

10 Passes Grounded

Kingston's yardage on passes was not impressive. As a matter of fact the first 10 passes thrown by Doc Titus either were intercepted or never came close to potential receivers. The two completions to Gheer and Jones were desperation heaves in the last few seconds of the game, after Harry Koch had intercepted a pass in the Kingston end zone to insure a tie for Kingston.

Thus the Maroon is still undefeated with three ties and a victory on its slate, but Port Jervis is actual leader of the DUSO League and the impression exists nobody is going to budge them.

A sparse gathering of Maroon alumni and rooters sat back expecting an overwhelming Kingston victory when, showing sustained driving power for the first time this season, the Burkomen drove 44 yards for a touchdown early in the second quarter.

Attack Stalls

They came back with another 40-yard march, later in the period but it suddenly stalled on the 4-yard line when questionable strategy muffed a first down with only a yard needed. After that, Kingston was a different ball club and the missed blocking assignments and a thousand other tactical errors were enough to drive Bill Burke and Russ Cunningham to distraction.

Something happened between the halves, Newburgh came out on the field and was a new ball club. In six quick thrusts they marched 34 yards for the touchdown that tied the score.

Late in the fourth period they were hammering at the gates of victory only to come to grief when Harry Koch intercepted a fourth down pass in the end zone. Only seconds earlier a perfect payoff pass had been dropped by Dominick Lofaro in the end zone.

A beautiful punt by Big Ed Weaver to Newburgh's 8-yard line set the stage for Kingston's first score. After an inconsequential thrust at the Maroon line Lofaro punted out on the Newburgh 44 and the Maroon was off.

Jack Keating, who got a starting assignment in the backfield when Mike Rlenzo was shifted to the old end post, circled right end for 8 yards. Bill Kitson hit the same spot to the 26-yard stripe where the quarter ended. Keating circled left end and Kitson slugged right tackle and then hit center for a first down on the Newburgh 16.

After Keating lost two to the 18, Kitson bulled his way to the 13 1/2. A pass was grounded. Newburgh was set back 5 yards for offense and then on five bone-crushing plays, Kitson tore over the goal line. The attempt for the extra point was a pass from Titus to Rlenzo that fizzled.

Maroon Hits Again

Mike Rlenzo recovered an Academy fumble on the Newburgh 40 late in the second period and Kitson and Keating put on their act which was destined to wind up in tragedy. Keating almost went the distance on a beautiful reverse from Newburgh's 15 to 4 where he fumbled and recovered. On fourth down Kingston needed less than a yard for first down and goal to go but Keating was smeared for a loss to the 7-yard line when everybody was expecting Kitson to hammer through the center.

Academy Threatens Twice

Newburgh tied the score early in the third period. Joe Rensini circled his right end from the 16-yard line, cut back and shook himself into the clear. For the last five yards he staggered grotesquely across the line, barely crossing the yard stripe before he rolled to the ground. Lofaro's placekick attempt was wide to the left.

The Academicians completed a sensational pass from Tyler to Lofaro from Newburgh's 46 to Kingston's 9 a while later. Tyler rummed to the six but an offside penalty nullified that threat.

Using a bewildering variety of basketball passes, the Academy went from Kingston's 34 after a recovered fumble to the 4-yard line. From that point Aulogia missed the heartbreaker that would have clinched victory for the home forces and Harry Koch came up with the fourth down interception in the end zone.

The starting lineups:

Newburgh Barry Zimco, Conway Jones, DeLuca, Fraze, Lofaro, Aulogia, Rensini, R. M. E. Keating, R. F. B. Kitson.

Pepperdine Halfback

Tops Nation's Scorers

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Darwin Horn, Pepperdine's classy back, continues to set the pace for individual scoring honors among the nation's college football players. Horn has scored 11 touchdowns and 65 points in sparking Pepperdine's unbeaten and untied eleven to five victories.

Dan Towler of Washington and Jefferson replaced Southern Methodist's Dock Walker in the runner-up spot. Towler has scored 62 points on nine touchdowns and eight conversions while Walker has counted eight six-pointers and booted 11 conversions for 59 points and third place.

Fullers-Pioneer Clash Heads Y Basketball Slate Tuesday

Three important contests are scheduled in the Y Autumn League Tuesday night at the Y.M.C.A. court starting at 7 o'clock.

The schedule follows:
7 p. m.—Wiltwyck Motors vs. Miron's Lumber.
8 p. m.—Kerhonkson vs. Potter Brothers.
9 p. m.—Fuller's Fashions vs. Pioneer A. C.

Wiltwycks and Miron's won their last outing and are about ready to hit peak form. Potter Brothers have added Moe Osterhoudt and Jack Kelse and this new found talent is expected to give them more power to cope with the altitudinous Otto Clippers.

Fullers go against the Pioneer A. C. in what should be the top game of the night. The shift makers have the inimitable Book brothers together with Hank Krom, Bob Murray, George Glaser and others against the speedy Negro outfit that features the Fitzgerald brothers, John Morton, Charlie Marable and a newcomer, Paul Robbins. The latter, a metropolitan product, was impressive in his first outing last week and should add considerable power to the Pioneer attack.

Leonevich-Mauriello Clash Set for Friday

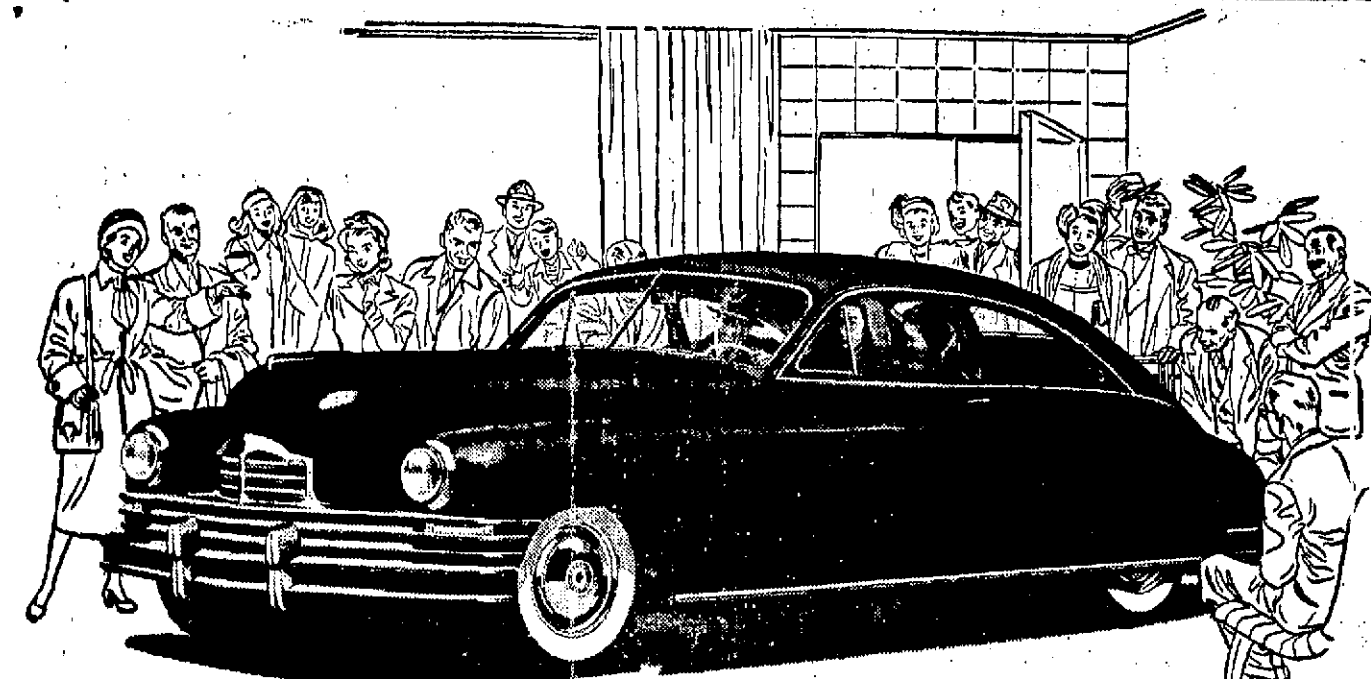

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bruised cowboys moved out of Madison Square Garden today and fight fans were eagerly hoping for some assorted mayhem at the swat salon Friday night when Light Heavyweight Champion Cleo Leonevich and tough Tami Mauriello clash for the fourth time.

Leonevich has beaten the Bronx barker three times in the last six years. Along with Leonevich, two other champions will see action this week. Willie Pep, the classy featherweight king from Hartford, Conn., takes on Archie Wilmer of Philadelphia in a non-title ten at the Quaker City Monday night and Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight titleholder from Harlem, clashes with California Jackie Wilson in an over-the-weight ten at Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Edmund Halley was the first astronomer to establish the fact of a comet's periodic return.

words, what I am trying to say is this: "Will today not only measure up to the glories of yesterday but equal the great responsibilities of tomorrow?" As I see it, these responsibilities are spiritual and not material. They must come from within and not without. They will not be created by things made of hand. They must be created from the things formed within.

Unseen Forces Are Great
The unseen forces of life are the great ones—the forces for evil as well as for good. You cannot weigh them. You cannot analyze them. You cannot measure them. You cannot see them. We all recognize their effect upon the world and what they are doing to society.

Envy, malice, jealousy, greed—what have have they wrought. Nations lie crumbling today because of their power. Like a cancer upon some vital organ they eat until suddenly the victim realizes he is doomed. These terrific forces—forces that we are sometimes prone to overlook master themselves and when they do assert themselves their impact is terrific.

In the war that is just closed and in the peace days that are now following we are wrestling with greed, and envy, and jealousy, and malice. They are actually motivating many of the talks around the peace-table. Here we see gathered from all the nations of the earth the finest representatives of their people. They are struggling with the greatest problem that any group of men have ever faced. The problem of eternal peace. Shall we have it? Can we have it? That will depend, in my opinion, not on what you have outside but what you maintain inside. For this reason I am very strongly in favor of all of those forces which we use today for the betterment of the soul and spiritual life of men.

The older I grow the more thoroughly I am convinced of the value of the inner man. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," was a very true saying in its day, and how pertinent it is now. No matter what you utter for the world to hear, how beautiful it may sound, how well rounded its phrases may be, the motives behind it, the things that you really believe in are the power that we must reckon with in the tomorrows.

Must Have Spirituality
So I am fully convinced, that if this country is to stand, it must be built on a spiritual basis. Because of this, I am a strong believer in all of those institutions that stand for the development of the spiritual life of mankind. I believe in the church, I believe in the church, I believe in public institutions of learning that are founded with the right ideas and carried forward with the right purposes. I believe that is a nation, we must remember that the life of our people will be no happier than the conditions of their souls.

So my fellow Americans as we gather here with all the rumors of disaster, and all the chaos that has passed and may be passing in this time of uncertainty, in this time of wonderment, it is good to have something to which to hold fast and on which you can stand. I do not believe that any great nation can exist on a foundation stone of skepticism or atheism. That is one thing that gives me confidence when I think of the inroads that Communism is supposed to be making and I realize that at heart Communism is godlessness. It would take down and destroy the institutions that I believe make for righteousness. Therefore, I am opposed to it as you are opposed to it. Certainly if it does not develop the spiritual, if it does not develop the soul life of men, it cannot and it will not succeed.

There has been noise and furor in the past days and there will be noise and furor in the tomorrows, but in the still small voice you hear the challenge of certainty and the power of achievement.

Faith Is Essential
I am sorry for any man, whoever he may be, that has not a deep abiding faith. To have someone believe in you, to trust in you, is a great incentive to go forward. To have someone in whom you believe and in whom you absolutely trust, is like an anchor in the midst of a storm at sea. It grips firmly and holds steadfastly, no matter how the waves may howl.

This is a great nation. It is my country. I believe in her. I rejoice in her achievements. I am happy over her history. I thrill to the great heights to which she has climbed. I look forward to the vistas of the future that are ahead. I can say to you tonight there is nothing that makes me more confident, and makes me more certain of the tomorrows, than the fact that the yesterday were built on a spiritual foundation.

In a few days we will gather in our places of worship, and in our homes to give thanks to our God for His many blessings bestowed upon us. And while we are thankful for our material prosperity and the victory of our armed forces, let us not forget that we should be deeply grateful for our heritage of spiritual freedom which has been handed down to us through the ages. Let us always keep this a nation of spiritual freedom where we will have a chance to develop our spiritual resources and forces. Thus will we view our nation, not in the light of its natural achievements or natural advantages, but by its spirit, its purposes, its character. We would point to our achievements, to our sacrifices, to our patriotism, we would call attention to our history. We seek no quarrels, neither do we run from conflict. We acknowledge our problems of race and industry. We know that we have many weaknesses. We must be seen at times to be committing civic suicide. It is easy to see all this but there is another side to our land. We see our response to the needy.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP)—Glenn Harris, owner of Ward Acres farm of New Rochelle, N. Y., won the $2,000 championship 3-year-old saddle horse stake at the Pennsylvania horse show which closed Saturday night.

National Guard Activity To Be Meeting Topic
National Guard activities will be explained at a meeting in Port Ewen tonight, arranged through cooperation of the Port Ewen Post, American Legion, and the local National Guard recruiting board.

The session will be held in the town clerk's office from 7:30 to 9 p. m., during which all questions about the guard and Kingston's unit, the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, will be answered.

The recruiting board also announced that it meets every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Li. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, announced today that Nov. 10 has been set tentatively as the date for federal recognition of the local units. A stage officer personnel has been assigned to the Kingston unit. The Kingston unit has always been well represented in the guard, the commanding officer said, and several men have signed up to date. These include the commander of the Port Ewen post, Chester Barth, who is known among the guardsmen as Tech. Sgt. Barth.

Ban Closes Woods To Hunters All Over Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP)—Governor James H. Duff's ban on hunting went into effect at midnight and remains in force until enough rain falls to saturate the tinder-dry forests of the state, made arid by a drought that has lasted for 21 days.

The governor's proclamation had the effect of putting a sudden end to the waterfowl season that opened last Tuesday, and was expected to at least postpone the start of the small game season, scheduled for next Saturday.

The proclamation also called for the closing of all state owned forest lands, not only for hunting but also for fishing. In other areas, however, the fishing privileges were not affected.

Horace B. Rowland, chief state fire warden, made a plea to all citizens of the commonwealth to cooperate with his department in trying to keep Pennsylvania free

Wherever hunger, disease, death or disaster stalks, we are there. No cry goes unheeded. When danger threatens, we are as one. When one part is stricken we all mourn. All know its power, all know its pull. All realize its glory.

Your country and mine. May it be known, not only for its greatness in size, its wonder of resources, but for the spiritual life that activates, motivates and controls us all.

Down the future we go—along the highway of nations we would march led by the spirit. We have it deep in us. Our country is great because of it. Our nation is secure by reason of it. Our future is safe in it. May we never lose the spiritual from our lives.

Polish Opposition

Party followers—stunned by their leader's disappearance—predicted that his departure would spell "the end" of any organized opposition to the Soviet-supported government of Premier Cyrankiewicz.

The Peasant Party leader recently said he expected to be arrested and share the fate of Nikola Petkov—Bulgarian peasant leader hanged last month for "treason."

Friends repeatedly had urged him to leave Poland and carry on his fight against the Communist government from abroad.

Observers speculated today that the 45-year-old Mikolajczyk might already be in the American zone of Germany, in Czechoslovakia, or even in London. Mikolajczyk, who served as premier of the exiled Polish government in London during the war, is well known and popular in Britain.

(Polish sources in the British capital said that the Polish leader might go to the United States to rally public opinion against the Warsaw regime. Mikolajczyk's wife has been living at Preston Hill, Middlesex. The couple's 23-year-old son is attending Trinity College, Cambridge University.)

Last seen with Mikolajczyk were his secretary, Marie Hildewicz, recently Bryia, treasurer of the Polish Peasant Party; two Peasant Party members of Parliament—Stefan Korbuski and Kuzimir Bojinski, and their wives.

When Mikolajczyk's disappearance was reported, the government ordered an immediate investigation, but an informant said the check led to naught and that apparently the opposition head had long since crossed the Polish border.

Mikolajczyk clashed with the

Nanking, Oct. 27 (AP)—The army newspaper Peace Daily reported today the Chinese Communist offensive along the Mukden-Changchun railway in Manchuria was crumbling and that the entire length of the 200-mile road would soon be cleared of Red troops.

Bodies Are Identified

Richfield, Utah, Oct. 27 (AP)—Medical officers by late last night had identified bodies of 12 of the 52 persons killed in the crash and explosion of a United Air Lines passenger plane Friday near the rim of Bryce Canyon. Eud Evans, U.A.L. publicity manager, said the 12 bodies had been positively identified and relatives have been notified. Meantime investigators of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the Civil Aeronautics Board, United and the Douglas Aircraft Company continued to study the site where the giant plane plowed into the ground a scant 1,500 feet from an emergency landing strip serving Bryce Canyon National Park.

Midwest Gets Some Relief From Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

Welcome showers ranging from moderate to heavy have fallen throughout most of the Mississippi valley and, as far west as Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas where some wheatland subsoil had been reported in need of moisture.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said the rain, moving eastward across Indiana and Michigan today, had left as much as an inch or more of moisture at scattered points in Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas.

Temperatures over the nation, however, were normal or above normal for this season, the weather bureau said, adding that low readings early today generally were above the frost line.

Skies were clear over the eastern and Pacific coast states.

government now pay 80 per cent of all costs.

The committee comprises William Reid, chairman; Thomas J. Patterson and Benjamin Fielding, Fielding, former license commissioner, was named last Friday as head of the Welfare Department when Edward E. Rhatigan resigned as commissioner.

O'Dwyer gave no reason for Rhatigan's resignation, and Rhatigan said yesterday in a statement that the mayor had requested it and that the request "came as a complete surprise" to Rhatigan.

Rhatigan declared there is no "secret" about the migration of people from Puerto Rico and elsewhere.

The resigned commissioner, who enumerated reasons for "the monthly rise of 3,000 cases" on relief rolls, said he had no "inking" that O'Dwyer "was unhappy or dissatisfied with the situation until I was called suddenly at 5 o'clock last Friday."

"I am not a politician," Rhatigan said, "and had no interest in any political implications, if any, of the present series of investigations and threatened investigations of the department."

At the time the high-cost hotel rentals were under fire, Rhatigan said the State Board of Social Welfare had been aware of the city department's inability to obtain other quarters for the families.

Commenting on expenditure of special allowance money—such as for emergency housing in hotels of evicted relief families—the mayor's committee stated that spending "was governed by the availability of funds."

Auditing procedure was criticized, and the report said there had been poor organization and "lack of proper planning." In many instances, it said, investigators were not making the legally required number of visits to relief recipients. "Laxity and poor judgment" were noted.

Old Gold was taught by Experience
...nearly 200
years of it!

Old Gold admits to plenty of wartime experience—including the American Revolution.

Back in 1760, we began learning fine tobaccos... blending, treating and handling them.

Now, nearly 200 years later, all that lore—plus modern scientific equipment—goes to making Old Gold the richest smoking treasure of all.

Could be you don't know what Old Gold offers. Maybe just routine keeps you on another brand.
